

Essential Elements of Procurement Optimization

Build a better procurement process

Every element in a single platform

Pipefy's no-code platform centralizes, automates, and optimizes all your procurement workflows for better visibility and fewer errors.

Achieve procurement efficiency and control

Pipefy helps procurement teams centralize and organize their processes for more efficiency and control. Teams that use Pipefy prevent avoidable costs through better visibility and automation.

Integrate all your apps, systems and tools to dissolve data silos and improve collaboration with other teams and external stakeholders. No more searching through endless emails or wasting time trying to manage spreadsheet sprawl.

Easily standardize every workflow (such as purchase requests) to ensure consistency and simplify compliance. Built-in security features include permission management, SSO, 2FA, audit logs, and an uptime of 99.9% or higher.

Pipefy is designed to be used by everyone on your team, no coding experience required. That means a more useful procurement toolbox without adding to the IT backlog.

What's possible with Pipefy

75% faster SLA lead times (from 4 days to 1)

50% reduction in request lead times (from 45 days to 20)

46% of manual emails managed through automation

Saved 2,400 team hours per year through automation

3 Pillars of Procurement Efficiency

Centralization

- Consolidate and control end-to-end procurement on a single screen.
- Integrate with your existing ERP, e-sourcing apps, databases, and collaboration tools for a seamless procurement experience.
- Guest portals and customizable forms make it easy to capture and consolidate information, even from external stakeholders.

Visibility

- Prevent avoidable costs and stay in control with x-ray insights.
- Easily organize and monitor incoming requests with rules and conditionals. Permission management and audit logs ensure traceability and accountability.
- Multiple views keep deadlines, statuses, and SLAs on your radar.

Automation

- Eliminate manual tasks and get more time for what matters most.
- Automate emails, status updates, approval flows and notifications, and other repetitive tasks.
- Bring standardization and structure to all your procurement workflows, while avoiding duplicate effort and the unnecessary errors that come with it.

Pipefy gives managers more control and visibility over the P2P process

“Pipefy helped us simplify supplier registration and payments. Now, we have a single platform for all approvals as well as standardized forms that make our work much easier”
